Service Dog Express believes in helping people and giving dogs a second chance. We encourage new clients looking for a Service Dog to choose dogs from local shelters and rescue groups that have been assessed for temperament and trainability by one of our many trainers. By choosing shelter/rescue dogs, customers are able to dramatically reduce the cost of services, and save a dog that may have otherwise been euthanized. In addition, Service Dog Express is happy to work with a client's own dog if it has the right temperament, because there already has been a bond established.

Once a client chooses to work with our company, the client along with their dog, go through extensive training, beginning at the client's home for an initial assessment, and then gradually moving the training into public forums. All Service Dogs and their handlers will be trained up to Assistance Dogs International (ADI) Public Access standards, and will be taught to perform additional tasks specific to each individual client's needs.

Please visit Trainers to read about our associate trainers. We can be found in San Antonio, Austin, Dallas Fort Worth, central New Mexico, southeast Virginia, and coming this summer (2014), Honolulu, Hawaii!!!
